

One thing that I really dislike are big crowds.

I can deal with cities,
but at school, where everyone
knows you, that is horrible.

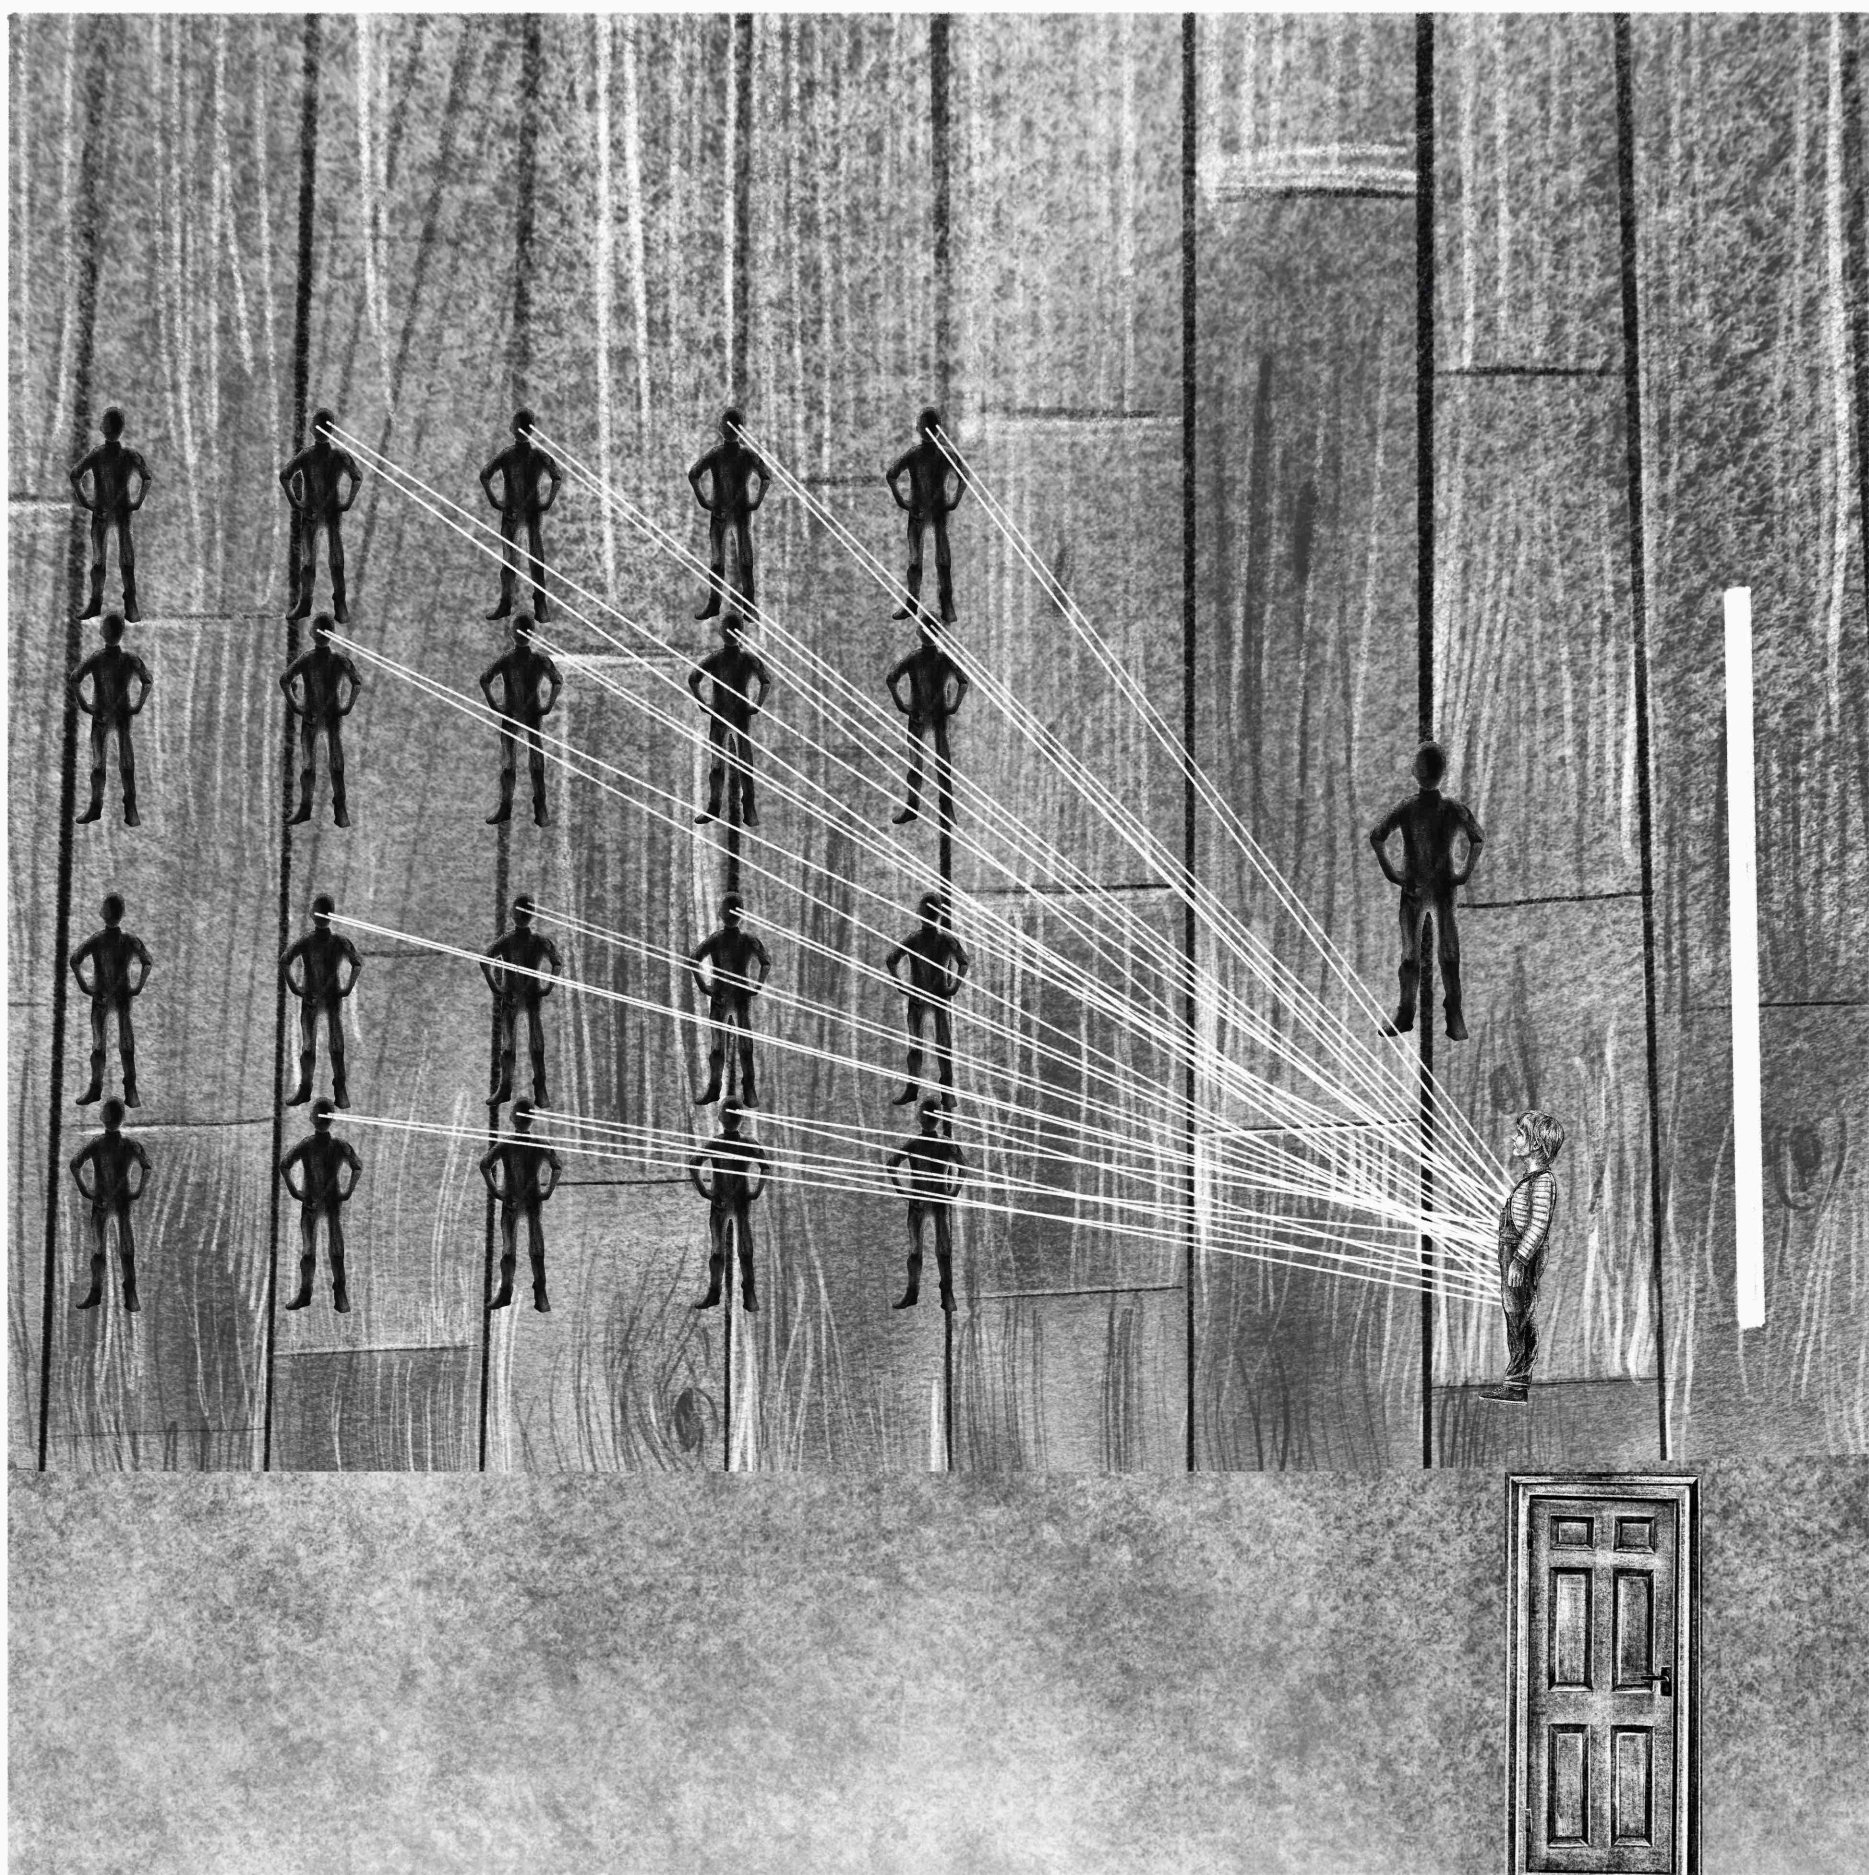

The thing that makes it bad
is that if they know you,
you stand out, so if you're
in school, they look at
you.

When the people are on
all sides, It's really stressful.
If you try to hide and a few people see you, It slowly
builds up

The problem with
going into a full
classroom, everyone looks.
They just stop and stare,
pure evil.

For me, when there are many people around, I try to go back to where I was, to get a bigger picture. One thing, if you wait for them to leave, you're late, which means no going into dots

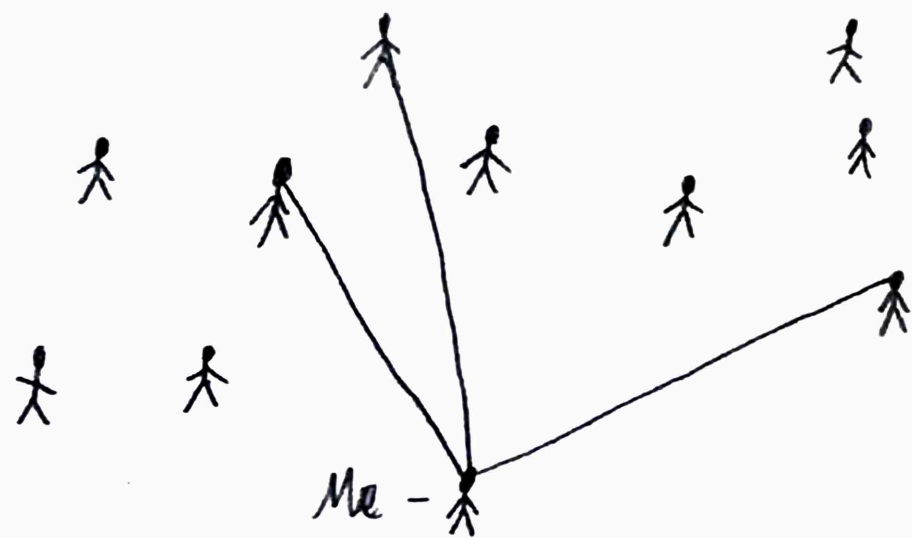

1.

One thing that I really dislike are big crowds.
I can deal with cities,
but at school, where everyone
knows you, that is horrible.

1.

2.

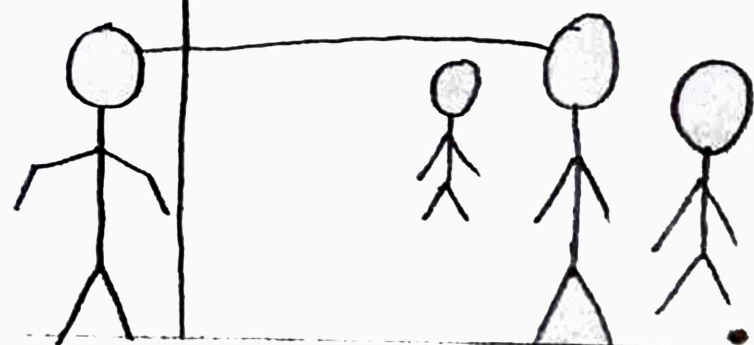

2.

The thing that makes it bad
is that if they know you,
you stand out, so if you're
in school, they look at
you.

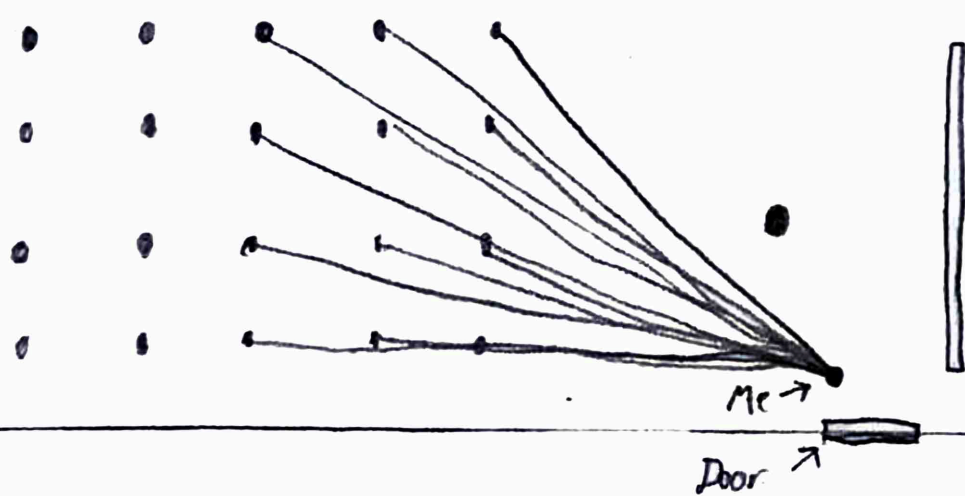

3.

When the people are on
all sides, it's really stressful.
If you try to hide and a
few people see you, it slowly
builds up.

3.

4.

4.

The problem with
going into a full
classroom, everyone looks.
They just stop and stare,
pure evil.

5.

For me, when there are many people around, I try to go back to where I was, to get a bigger picture. One thing, if you wait for them to leave, you're late, which means no going into class.

5.

